

Two Research Assistants (m/w/d)

in the Philosophy research group of Prof. Dr. Dr. Rafaela Hillerbrand on the topic “A Just Transition to Climate Neutrality” from 01 October 2021, 30 hours per month, duration: 3 months

Tasks:

The positions include supporting activities for research, teaching or general organizational matters. In particular, you will support the research project “A Just Transition to Climate Neutrality”.

Research

- Analyzing academic and gray literature on the topics of Just Transition, Energy Justice, Climate Justice, Environmental Justice
- Writing excerpts
- Discussing proposed solutions with the project team

Supporting academic publications

- Proof reading
- Support for documentation and monitoring, e.g. monitoring progress and deadlines

Teaching

- Support in compiling literature for teaching

General

- Supporting workshop and meeting organization

Qualifications:

We expect reliable and thorough work and a keen interest in philosophical questions, especially questions of justice. Ideally, you have previous knowledge in the areas of sustainability transformation, climate change or the energy transition. You should be able to solve tasks or problems independently, following brief instructions. Good English skills are expected, as the working language in the project and research group is English.

Contact and Application:

Dr. Christine Milchram, E-Mail: christine.milchram@kit.edu

Please e-mail your application, including cover letter and CV until 18 August 2021. We will invite selected candidates for a short interview.

We look forward to your application!

Karlsruhe, 19 July 2021